NEWS

We are being committed to do what is the best for the public health in the context of COVID-19 outbreaks across many countries. Therefore, we totally understand the restrictions of travelling and direct interaction within the crowded area. In doing so, we are going to offer and provide two options: onsite and offsite presentation and discussion in SOB2020. Please feel free to submit your manuscript and take the online presentation if you feel comfortable and safe at home. Your health and comfort are our main priority at this moment.

Our conference is the first conference at the University of Economics Ho Chi Minh City to make every effort to build up the smooth and stable system so as to support your presentation and discussion currently. Please feel free to let us know of any constraints you may face with such an online presentation or our system connection. We believe that we are providing the best conditions and comfort to your choices. Once again, thank you for considering our conference as your place to exchange and share your research interests.

To the people of China, Italy, Iran, South Korea, Spain, France, Germany and many other countries, of course, Vietnam, which are suffering with COVID-19 impacts. Wish you the brighter day ahead. We are with you. Our thoughts are with you.

Stay healthy.
